The College Council met on Tuesday, April 3, 2012 in Room M-240. President Peruggi called the meeting to order at 3:10 PM.

AGENDA

- I. The minutes of the meeting held on November 29, 2011 were approved unanimously.
- II. Reports reorganized committee on the Liberal Arts, this Council, and especially the Council's Curriculum Committee will be hard at work in an effort to comply with the requirements of the Pathways initiative. Although there is a great deal of controversy about both the substance and the methods of this initiative, we must admit that the core issues of Pathways—that is, a common structure for general education and a fair and more logical system of transferring from a community college to a senior college—were issues that our University has at times ignored, at times kicked down the road, at times given lip service, and at times stonewalled by the senior colleges. We have at last addressed these matters. The solution may not be perfect, but at least it is a start. But this is a matter of utmost importance to our community college students, and it matters to them both academically and financially.

The President took this opportunity to thank everyone at the college who have already devoted a great deal of time and effort to this project, and to encourage all of those who will be working on various aspects of Pathways throughout the coming months.

The President then moved on to discuss the college's process of Strategic Planning. In October 2011 the College reexamined its existing goals and established a new set of priorities for the next three years. With the help of the Council's Strategic Planning and Budget Committee, the college will begin the process of turning the eight major goals which were identified into specific and measurable objectives to work on. In the next few days, eight committees will be formed to focus on the college's eight major priorities. Many of those present will be involved with the tasks of those committees, and the President looks forward to working with each of the groups as the college charts its course for the years ahead.

Regarding CUNYFirst, the President recently sent an email to all students schedule a date and place for each committee to meet to elect a chairperson and a secretary and to determine its permanent organization.

The committee shall name replacements to standing committees, with the exception of the Steering Committee, from the list of preferences of each member, which it shall maintain.

The committee shall consider written petitions from any member requesting reassignment to an alternative standing committee for the duration of his/her term, and shall make such decisions at its discretion.

Report: In 2009-2010 the Committee on Committees overhauled the committee assignment and election processes that had been in use since the inauguration term instead of on an annual basis, and the election of chairs and secretaries has been streamlined and expedited. This new system has functioned very efficiently since then. In particular, the full-term member committee assignments have eliminated the need for frequent and protracted elections at Fall College Council meetings each year. Also, a move to electronic committee selection has further improved the experience for Council members making committee selections and requesting reassignments.

Curriculum Committee

Mission statement: The Curriculum Committee shall be concerned with the formulation, development, modification, and evaluation of curricula.

1. The committee shall receive proposals from any member of the instructional staff. Such proposals (in approved, standard format) shall be submitted through and approved by appropriate department curriculum committees (and/or other such approval required by the department), forwarded to the Provost for review, and then referred to the chairperson of the committee for purposes of recommendation and evaluation by the committee. Proposals may also be forwarded to the Provost from the Program Director of Liberal Arts or the Chairs of duly appointed college task forces (e.g., General Education).
2. The chair of the committee shall establish a curriculum proposal submission calendar for each semester in consultation with the Provost, who shall distribute the calendar to department chairpersons.
3. The committee shall consider proposals for new or modified degrees, certificates, and courses (including "experimental" 82 courses) with regard to such factors as their relation to the college's mission and existing curriculum, as well as their hours, credits, content, learning outcomes, evaluation criteria, and expected articulation.
4. The committee shall report its recommendation to the College Council for review and approval. (Minor changes--such as course numbering, modifications of course names--shall be reported to the College Council as informational items.)

Report: The Curriculum Committee has affirmed its mission statement.
Between 2009

Legislative Committee

Mission statement: The Legislative Committee shall be concerned with the Governance of the College, including the constitution and amendments, election procedures, Bylaws of the College Council, and initiation and review of all outside legislation concerning the College.

Report: In addition to proposing the changes to the Committee on Committees process, the Legislative Committee has been quite active since 2009. In response to Middle States recommendations on governance, the committee added two new delegates to the Council membership representing part-time Instructional Staff and retirees. The term of office for full-time Support Staff delegates has been extended to three years to match that of Instructional Staff. The Constitution was revised to reflect these changes, as well as the three-year assessment cycle instituted for the Council.

As part of its charge to administrate college elections, in 2010-2011 the committee revised the policies and procedures by which department elections are administered. The transition to internet-based e-voting (begun in 2009-2010) has been completed with very effective results in terms of accessibility, participation rates, and efficiency.

Finally, the committee proposed no changes to its mission statement.

Strategic Planning and Budget Committee

Mission statement: Strategic Planning and Budget Committee: shall review the strategic and financial plans for the College for the purpose of ensuring that assessment results affect planning; planning is evidence-based; strategic plans affect fiscal decisions; and these fiscal decisions support academic priorities, staff and organizational development, facilities plans, and other institutional priorities.

The Committee will approve and/or recommend strategic plans and budget priorities to the College Council. It will not deal with specific budget allocations or monitoring of expenditures. To enable the Committee to serve as a vehicle for budgetary transparency, the Chief Administrative Officer shall designate an administrator to appear before the Committee at the beginning of each semester to report on the College budget. Based on the report of the budget, the Committee may seek additional related information or available institutional data. The Committee will review the information presented and report to the College Council on its review.

Report: The Strategic Planning and Budget Committee held college-wide events in May 2010 and October 2011 to identify new strategic priorities. Each of these events was attended by more than 100 members of the college community. The committee submitted resolutions to the full College Council endorsing new priorities in May 2010 and November 2011.

Each semester, the College administration has presented information about the budget to the committee, so that the members can see the connections between
