Online Voting Information Sheet

Hi, Everyone – As promised, our first online election test is underway.

Please take just a few minutes this week to help us test the system. We have set up a test election which has already begun and will continue from now through Thursday March 25 @ 8:59 PM. You may vote at any time during that period through the internet, using an internet-connected computer at work, at home or anywhere else. Eligible voters include all Kingsborough College Council members, and also the college Council president and

Access Information:

(There is also a link at the Kingsborough College Council page: http://www.kingsborough.edu/College_Council)

Your Username: first initial + lastname -- so John Smith would be jsmith (no CAPS)
Do not use any spaces, hyphens or special characters.
Alfonso Garcia-Osuna would be agosuna

Your Password: password (it is the same word for everyone, only for this test election)

Thank you very much in advance for participating in this important test before we roll out the system campus-wide in six weeks. As representatives of all the campus' constituencies, we can give the system a real test and help prepare everyone for this major improvement to our elections process.

Finally, at the end of the election there is a very short 5-minute survey to fill out online. Please help evaluate the system.

Mike Kolow
Chair, Elections Committee / Legislative Committee

PS. Please try out question #2, the nominations with names of friends at the college, political figures, etc. (acceptable response). Since we are testing the system that will be used in May, it is important for us to see if the procedures are working. It's not who you nominate for that's important - just that your nominations are recorded correctly.
